§ THE CATALOGER'S TOOL CHEST §

Here's an LCC teaser: The Library of Congress makes available for free an outline of the Library of Congress Classification. Below each main letter link on the outline is the outline of each subclass. While of course this is insufficient for actual classification purposes at the micro level, it does offer an interesting public overview of the "skeleton" of LCC, which may be of interest or application at the reference/bibliographic instruction level. Here is a link to the Library of Congress Classification Outline.
